It is customary for the winner of a major poker event to take home a piece of jewelry as a trophy. Sometimes it is a ring, more often it is a bracelet, and in the case of an October poker championship taking place in Atlantic City, a local Ridgewood jeweler was chosen to make the trophy. The $7,500 bracelet will be awarded to the winner of the 2007 U.S. Poker Championship, played at the Trump Taj Mahal casino. The jeweler is Jordan Eddi, owner of AJ's Jewelry in Ridgewood.
